

Community Meeting

You're invited! Join Philadelphia Water and Councilman Kenyatta Johnson's office to discuss plans for rain gardens on two vacant lots in your neighborhood.

Philadelphia Water is developing plans to revitalize two vacant lots in Point Breeze by planting rain gardens. The lots are 1900 Point Breeze Avenue and 1701 S. Ringgold Street. These special gardens will soak up stormwater when it rains and will be maintained by Philadelphia Water. Join us to learn more about the project and provide your feedback. Refreshments will be served.

This project is part of Philadelphia's Green City, Clean Waters program which works to improve the health of our local rivers. By planting trees and plants that soak up water when it rains, and by storing rain water underground, we can help keep our rivers and streams clean.
